*if you are not signing your real name to your letter

To help us get your letter to a girl who can benefit most from it, please check the categories that describe your letter content. (Check all that apply.)

- General inspiration
- Socio-economic issues
- Religion/spirituality
- Sexuality
- Body image
- Queer identity
- Surviving abuse/hardship

The following section is required:

- I understand that my letter will become the property of Letters to Black Girls. It will be reviewed to ensure they are feminist, anti-racist, body positive, LGBTQ+ positive, anti-respectability politics and pro-black and may then be distributed. Only submissions made electronically can have their receipt confirmed. By submitting my letter, I give permission for it to be used as part of programming and promotion related to the Letters to Black Girls project. (For example, portions of my letter may be highlighted on social media or read during workshops for black girls.) Co-founders will only use the initials on my letter and will never make public my contact information.*
